

Determination of Significance and Adoption of Existing Environmental Document

Description of current proposal

Clark County is considering the establishment of a rural industrial land bank (RILB) as provided in the Growth Management Act (GMA; RCW 36.70A.367). Clark County received an application to establish the RILB on two properties that front SR-503 north of the Vancouver urban growth area (UGA): Ackerland property west of 117th Avenue, 223.72 acres, and Lagler property east of 117th Avenue, 378.71 acres.

Designation of the RILB would allow large properties in rural areas to accommodate light industrial and manufacturing businesses, and limited commercial uses. Future development would need to be master planned and demonstrate consistency with the Clark County Comprehensive Plan, the Light Industrial Zone, and development standards requiring a perimeter landscaped buffer, water quality and air quality standards, critical areas regulations, stormwater standards, and adequate roadway, water, sewer, power and other infrastructure.

The Clark County Comprehensive Plan identifies the subject areas as agricultural lands of long-term commercial significance. Portions of the properties are identified as Railroad Industrial Reserve or Industrial Reserve. As part of designating the RILB, the properties would be de-designated from agricultural lands of long-term commercial significance, designated as a RILB, and rezoned as Light Industrial (IL).

Based on the requirements of GMA, alternative locations for the RILB have been considered. An inventory identified five sites – one site in the Vancouver Urban Growth Area (UGA) and four non-UGA sites including the docket site for analysis as alternative sites:

- Site 1 is the subject docket site north of the Vancouver UGA straddling SR 503.
- Site 2 is adjacent to and north of the Ridgefield UGA along I-5.
- Site 3 lies between the Vancouver and Ridgefield UGAs along I-5 at SR 502.
- Site 4 is adjacent eastward of the Vancouver city limits.
- Site 5 consists of the Section 30 subarea plan site in eastern Vancouver city limits.

All sites were considered for industrial or employment center purposes in the Clark County 2007 Comprehensive Plan Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). The City of Vancouver led a subarea plan for Section 30 and development agreements were prepared in 2009. Environmental review was conducted with the subarea plan and also has occurred as developments have been proposed.

The lead agency has determined this proposal is likely to have a significant adverse impact on the environment. To meet the requirements of RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c), the lead agency is adopting the document described above. Under WAC 197-11-630, there will be no scoping process for this project.

We have identified and adopted this document as being appropriate for this proposal after independent review. The document meets our environmental review needs for the current proposal and will accompany the proposal to the decision maker.

Environmental review

An addendum to the 2007 EIS in the form of a programmatic environmental review has been prepared regarding the RILB. This document includes a review of environmental factors for the application site and contains mitigating measures as required in the form of a master plan concept and proposed development regulations. The addendum is available at: <http://www.clark.wa.gov/planning/landbank/>.
