- Discipline and/or sanctions as a result of disciplinary action. Refer to "Appeals" in this handbook for the disciplinary appeals process.
- Personal disputes between you and an employee.

The Sheriff's Office has established a formal procedure to address inmate complaints. If you have a grievable issue, you must first attempt to resolve it informally through oral communication with an employee or the employee concerned. If your grievance cannot be resolved informally, you can complete and submit an "Inmate Grievance Form". Each level and written response must use the original form. All guidelines, steps and timelines must be followed in order to prevent rejection of your grievance and exhaust all administrative remedies.

Grievance guidelines are as follows:

- Grievances are not an avenue to vent.
- Grievances should be written in a civil tone.
- Grievances that contain hostile, sexual or threatening language will be returned to you for resubmission.
- Use of profanity is not acceptable unless you are quoting a direct statement(s).
- Group grievances or grievances submitted on behalf of another inmate will not be accepted.
- Late filings will be rejected unless approved by a supervisor.

Grievance timelines are as follows:

1. You have only seven (7) days from the time of the event to submit an "Inmate Grievance Form"
2. You will receive a written response from the appropriate sergeant within five (5) business days.
3. If you're not satisfied with the response, you have forty eight (48) hours from receiving your answer to file your grievance to the next level. You must list a reason why the response didn't resolve the grievance.
4. Each administrative level, Commander and the Chief Jail Administrator, has ten (10) business days to respond.

Medical care grievances must be submitted on a "Medical Inmate Grievance Form". Refer to "Medical Grievance" in this handbook.

ADMINISTRATIVE SEGREGATION

Administrative segregation is a non-punitive inmate management tool. Inmates who present a safety/security concern, are pending investigation, require protective custody or who need to be separated from the general population may be placed in administrative segregation. The Classification Unit reviews placements every seven (7) to ten (10) days. Placements may be maintained as long as the safety/security concern exist.

Inmates in administrative segregation will be in lockdown twenty three (23) hours per day. Violations of jail rules while in administrative segregation may result in restriction of inmate privileges. Inmates that are determined a threat to safety and security will have access to privileges on a case-by-case basis.

Complete and submit an “Inmate Request Form” requesting consideration for placement back into general population. State specific reason you should be removed from administrative segregation

RECLASSIFICATION

Classification is an ongoing process for the safety and security of inmates and staff. If you have an emergent concern for your safety, you should notify staff immediately.

Classification reviews occur throughout your stay approximately every thirty (30) days, fifteen (15) days for maximum security, or as needed due to special circumstances. Your classification may be raised or lowered for varied reasons during your current incarceration. If you return to jail in the future, the general standards will apply.

Complete and submit an “Inmate Request Form” to request a review of your cell classification. State the reason you should be moved to another area.

CORRESPONDING WITH JUDGES AND COURTS

You may mail correspondence to judges and courts. “Inmate Request forms” are not considered correspondence. Complete and submit a “Declaration of Inmate Mailing to the Courts” for each correspondence. Refer to “Legal Mail” in this handbook for mail details.

If you have violated a jail rule an infraction will be written and sanctions may be imposed. You will receive a copy of the infraction before the deputy's shift ends or after investigation is complete.

Sanctions imposed on multiple violations during a single incident will run concurrently. Sanctions for separate discipline incidents (including minor infractions) will run consecutively. Rule violations occurring while housed at the JWC will fall under the JWC guidelines/handbook.

The following are minimal imposed disciplinary sanctions for infractions.

**The infracting deputy may substitute loss of recreation for lockdown.

***Loss of all good time if found guilty of three (3) major infractions.

MAJOR INFRACTION SANCTIONS

Disciplinary hearings will determine guilt or innocence for a major infraction. If found guilty, the hearing deputy will impose sanctions. If sanctions are outside of the standard range, the hearing deputy must give written justification. Pending a disciplinary hearing, inmates may be in lockdown at the discretion of the shift supervisor.

HEARING PROCESS

The infraction/segregation report is your notice that you have violated a rule. In cases of major infractions this will also serve as your record of the hearing. Disciplinary hearings will determine guilt or innocence based on the evidence presented. Sanctions will be imposed if found guilty. Summaries of disciplinary hearings will be recorded in writing.

You may be held accountable for discipline violations from a previous incarceration or while on escape status. Example: An inmate bails out prior to or just after a disciplinary hearing and returns to jail a month later. The hearing can still be held and/or sanctions can still be imposed.

It is an inmate's right to attend a hearing, however:

- If you are unruly, the hearing deputys may recess the hearing.
- If you refuse to attend the hearing, it will be held in your absence.
- If there is a safety concern for staff and/or other inmates if you attend the hearing, your right may be suspended.
- If you are incapable of representing yourself, you shall be advised of your right to be assisted by another person. This person may help and assist you if it does not compromise or violate safety or security.

During a hearing:

- The misconduct report listing the charges will be read to you.
- You may admit or deny these charges.
- You may tell your side of the story and present evidence and witnesses; unless presenting such evidence or witnesses may risk the safety of staff or other inmates.
- Inmates have no right to cross-examine witnesses or confront accusers.
- All inmates retain the right against criminal self-incrimination. However, your silence may result in an unfavorable decision in the administrative/disciplinary hearing.
- At an administrative/disciplinary hearing, you have no right to remain silent if criminal self-incrimination is not possible.
- If you fail to answer questions or refuse to speak on your own behalf, the hearing deputy(s) can make an adverse conclusion, which can be included in the evidence relied upon in determining guilt or innocence.

APPEALS

You have a right to appeal any discipline, major or minor violations. Discipline is not subject to the grievance procedure. Complete and submit an "Inmate Request Form" to appeal. Each level and written response must use the original form. All steps and timelines must be followed in order to exhaust all administrative remedies.
