

Economic Development Opportunity Response Team 2014

The professionals within the county take action when a major development opportunity exists, or when a project appears to be having difficulty navigating the development process.

Inquiries made to the Board of County Commissioners, County Administrator or other organizations are referred to the Economic Development Director. The Economic Development director activates key team members, reviews the situation, and determines if the situation requires team action or can be addressed through the standard community development options.

Team representatives include:

- Community Development: land use
- Community Development: building
- Public Works: development engineering
- Public Works: transportation and concurrency
- Environmental Services: storm water
- Environmental Services: permitting
- Finance: budget, auditor or treasurer
- County Administrator
