Major Home Business

What is a Home Business?
Home businesses are commercial activities carried on within a dwelling by a member or members of the family who occupy the dwelling. The home business is secondary to the use of the dwelling for living purposes, and the residential character of the dwelling must be maintained.

In Clark County, home businesses must be owned and operated by the resident owner or renter with owner consent. If more than one home business is operated out of the home, all businesses in combination must not exceed the applicable standards. Uses that are otherwise listed as permitted outright, a conditional use, or a use subject to review and approval under the zone in which the property is located, cannot be approved under the home business ordinance.

Do all home businesses need a Home Business permit?
If your business has a minimal impact to the neighborhood, and is limited to the following standards, a home business permit from the county is not required. However, a building permit may be required:

In urban areas:
- A maximum of 25 percent of gross floor area or 1,000 square feet (whichever is less) of the dwelling and attached garage may be used for the home business (see page six for “gross floor area” definition)
- No use of accessory structures for the home business
- Maximum of two employees who come to the home business location, with one parking space on-site for each non-resident employee
- No customers that come to the home business location
- No outside storage
- No heavy equipment; no more than one home business-related vehicle
- No on-site retail sales
- No more than one sign related to the home business of two square feet or less.

In rural areas:
- A maximum of 25 percent of gross floor area or 1,000 square feet (whichever is less) of the dwelling and attached garage may be used for the home business (see page seven for “gross floor area” definition)
- Use of up to 400 square feet of an accessory structure
- Maximum of two employees who come to the home business location, with one parking space on-site for each non-resident employee
- No customers that come to the home business location
- No outside storage
- No heavy equipment; no more than one home business-related vehicle; and, no on-site retail sales
- No more than one sign related to the home business of two square feet or less.

Note:
- There is no minimal lot size for exempt home businesses
- Two or more exempt home businesses on the same parcel require application for a Type I or II Home Business permit if the combined features of each business exceed the above standards
What is the difference between a minor and major home business?

The review process depends on whether you are in the urban or rural areas, and the extent of the impacts the business may have on the neighborhood. The distinctions are summarized below:

Note: On-site retail (other than incidental), adult entertainment enterprises as defined in Clark County Code, Chapter 5.45, automotive recycling material facilities, and in urban areas, new facilities for servicing motor vehicles are prohibited.
Are there other permits that may be required?
Yes, in most cases.

Building Permit
Depending upon your home business situation, you will need a residential or commercial building permit.

Home business applications and building permits must be submitted at the same time.

A residential building permit is required when your home business will be located inside the home or in an attached garage, and the area used for the home business is 500 sq. ft. or less.

The areas used for your home business that are used by employees or customers are required to meet the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) standards, including parking, accessible route and entry under Section 3409 of the International Building Code (IBC).

A commercial building permit is required when your home business will be located in a structure that is detached from the home or the structure, addition, or space used for home business is over 500 sq. ft.

The areas used for a home business that are used by employees or customers are required to meet the ADA standards, including parking, accessible route and entry under Section 3409 of the IBC. Home businesses over 500 square feet will be required to comply with all applicable provisions of the IBC, Section 3411 Accessibility to Existing Buildings.

Before the home business owner applies for a home business permit, they should meet with a Plans Examiner and Permit Technician at the Permit Center to determine the extent of building permit requirements and fees.

For more information general building permit questions, call (360) 397-2375, ext. 4078.

For more information on ADA standards, call Dave Maret at (360) 397-2375, ext 4091.

Fire Marshal
Approval from the Fire Marshal may be required if your home business is a non-office type of work (e.g., wood working or other types of manufacturing). Call (360) 397-2375, ext. 3396 for more information.

Electrical
Labor & Industries conducts all electrical plan reviews and inspections for the county. For all electrical work, call (360) 896-2300.

Critical Areas
If you are proposing to construct new buildings or commence home business activities within an environmental critical area additional permits may be required. Such critical areas include: Shoreline Management areas, Critical Aquifer Recharge Areas (CARA), geo-hazard, floodplains, wetlands and habitat. Contact the Permit Center at (360) 397-2375, ext. 4489.

Certain activities can have a negative impact on groundwater such as vehicle service and repair shops, auto wrecking, storage of hazardous substances, and similar activities and are required to receive approval under a CARA permit prior to issuance of a Home Business Permit.

Public Health
If the home business will be using a septic or water well system, you should consult with Public Health. Call (360) 397-8428 for more information.

If the home business will use public sewer, approval from the provider is required. Contact Clark Regional Waste Water
District located at 800 NE 52nd Ct, (360) 750-5876, or the city of Vancouver located at 415 W 6th St., Vancouver WA, (360) 487-7866.

Is outside storage of home business related items allowed?
Outside storage is allowed only for Major Rural Home Businesses. The storage area must be screened from public view. The required screening must meet the county’s L3 landscaping standard which is defined as:

“The L3 standard provides physical and visual separation between uses. The L3 standard requires enough high shrubs to form a screen six (6) feet high and ninety-five percent (95%) opaque year around. In addition, one tree is required per thirty (30) lineal feet of landscaped area or as appropriate to provide a tree canopy over the landscaped area.

“Groundcover plants must fully cover the remainder of the landscaped area. A six (6) foot high wall or fence, with or without a berm, may be substituted for shrubs, but the trees and groundcover plants are still required. When applied along street lot lines, the screen or wall is to be placed along the interior side of the landscaped area.”

See page nine of this handout for more information.

Are there additional requirements if I live on a private road?
Under the Type II review process, the county will visit the site and may require certain roadway improvements to ensure a minimizing of dust, noise, trip generation, and road safety and maintenance are adequately addressed.

What is the application process?
Staff at the Permit Center, located at the Public Service Center, 1300 Franklin Street, first floor, Vancouver, Washington, will assist with the application process.

For a Major Home Business, the first step is to determine if a State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA) environmental checklist must be submitted. Generally, if your home business proposes the following, a complete SEPA checklist must be submitted with your application.

Urban area
- 10,000 square feet or more of agricultural building
- 500 cubic yards or more of grading

Rural area
- 10,000 square feet or more of agricultural building
- 500 cubic yards or more of grading

Also, if any proposed activity will take place in any of the following critical areas, a critical area permit (e.g., Shoreline or Habitat permit) and a SEPA review is required:
- Shoreline
- Unstable Slopes
- Slopes over 40 percent
- Floodplain
- Wetlands
- Habitat

Permit Services staff will assist the applicant in determining if a SEPA checklist is required with the application. The SEPA Review Application Form and Environmental Checklist are available at the Permit Center.

Once the SEPA checklist is completed, submit the application package to the Permit Center. Use the submittal checklists to make sure that your application packet is complete.
Note: A pre-application conference is not required for a Home Business request.

What is a SEPA checklist and what is its purpose?
The State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA) requires that a review of the potential environmental impacts of the proposed subdivision be conducted. County staff and interested agencies will review the home business application to determine its compliance with applicable federal, state and county code. Through this process a determination will be made as to whether the impacts will be considered non-significance (DNS), mitigated non-significance (MDNS), or significance (DS).

For a DNS or MDNS determination, an analysis will be incorporated within the Staff Report referenced below. If a DS determination is made, the applicant is required to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) prior to the county considering the proposed home business. The SEPA determination is published in The Columbian newspaper.

What if I didn’t submit all of the required information?
The county conducts two application checks to ensure that applications are complete before staff begins their development review process. Prior to accepting your application, the Permit Center staff will conduct a Counter Complete review of your submittal package. This initial review ensures that all main listed within the submittal requirement lists have been submitted before accepting your application (see attached submittal requirements).

Once your application is accepted, the original submittal package is routed to our review staff. Staff conducts a second completeness check, known as the Fully Complete review. This more detailed review ensures that all items under the numbered headings of the attached Submittal Requirements have been submitted. As an example, does the Site Plan include the location and dimensions of all structures, outside storage areas, and activity areas.

If required items are missing from your original submittal, you will receive a letter of Not Fully Complete with a list of the missing items. If you have not submitted the requested information within 30 days of this written request, staff will return your application and refund the application fee, less the processing costs incurred to date.

If all of the submittal requirements have been met, the applicant will be directed to submit five additional copies that contain the revisions and additional information that may have been required to be Fully Complete. Once all Fully Complete copies have been received, you will receive a Fully Complete determination letter and be vested on the date you submitted the Fully Complete application.

What kind of public notice is provided?
A public notice describing the proposal will be mailed to property owners within a 300' radius of the project (if within an urban growth boundary) or a 500' radius of the project (if outside an urban growth boundary), the area neighborhood association representative, and to the applicant. This notice is mailed within 14 calendar days from the Fully Complete date.

The notice will invite written comments to be submitted within 14 calendar days of the date of the notice. Copies of any written comments received in a timely manner will be sent to the applicant. The applicant may submit a written response to the comments received within 14 days from the date the comments are mailed to the applicant.
Who makes the decision and when will it be made?
For major home businesses, a Type II review, a decision by the Responsible Official will be mailed to the applicant within 78 days of a Fully Complete determination.

Can the decision be appealed?
The Responsible Official’s decision may be appealed to the county Hearing Examiner by the applicant or any person or group. An appellant must submit an appeal application and fee within 14 calendar days after the written notice of the decision is mailed.

See our Appeals handout for more information.

Note: Approval of this application does not constitute approval of modification to existing driveways or construction of a new driveway. Construction of a new driveway or modification to an existing driveway requires a Driveway Approach Permit, which applied for and issued at the Permit Center.
