County seeks applicants for volunteer Animal Control Advisory Board position

Vancouver, Wash. – Deputy County Manager Bob Stevens is seeking applicants for an open position on the volunteer Animal Protection and Control Advisory Board.

The position is for someone who owns a dog and lives anywhere in Clark County.

The term begins immediately and ends Oct. 31, 2020.

Advisory board members meet quarterly at 6:30 p.m. on the fourth Thursday of the month at Clark County Operations Division, 4700 N.E. 78th St.

Duties of the 10-member board include:

- Reporting to the county council and Vancouver City Council at least once a year on general operations of the Animal Protection and Control Program
- Recommending potential modifications to code
- Acting as an appeals hearing board
- Volunteering at outreach and fundraising events
- Promoting the program and its licensing of all dogs and cats.

For more about the board or to download an application, please go to www.clark.wa.gov/community-development/animal-control-advisory-board.

Applications and a résumé should be mailed to Animal Protection and Control, P.O. Box 9810, Vancouver, WA 98666-9810 or dropped off at the department office on the third floor of the Public Service Center, 1300 Franklin St.

Application deadline is 5 p.m. Friday, July 7, 2017.
