CLARK COUNTY

PROPOSITION NO. 1
CLARK COUNTY HOME RULE CHARTER

Proposition No. 1 proposes a Home Rule Charter government for Clark County. This proposition would replace the current form of county government with a government formed under the Washington Constitution, Article XI, Section 4. The Charter provides that the assessor, auditor, clerk, treasurer, and sheriff are partisan offices elected countywide. It provides for the adoption of a code of ethics to apply to all officers and employees of the county; limits most emergency ordinances to sixty days; provides for a review and amendment of the Charter itself; and provides for the transition from the existing form of government to the Charter form of government.

The Charter provides the citizens the opportunity to vote separately on alternative articles relating to the number of county commissioners; whether the county commissioners should be nominated and elected countywide or by district only; and whether the Charter should or should not include a provision which grants to the citizens of Clark County the powers of initiative and referendum.

SHOULD THE HOME RULE CHARTER BE APPROVED? YES..

SHOULD THE HOME RULE CHARTER BE APPROVED? NO....
